

Small Business Resource Card: Support for you and your workers

You may have questions about your role, how you can support your worker and what support might be available for your small business - especially if this is your first claim. The below will guide you on where to find information, available resources and where you can access support.

Your role

Contact your worker early and regularly

Participate in finding suitable work tasks

Develop a plan to support your worker

Managing the relationship:
A guide for supervisors in small and medium businesses

Support available for you

Case Manager

- Coordinates your workers claim
- Your primary contact

Rehabilitation provider

- Identifies suitable work tasks in your workplace
- Helps you develop a plan to support your worker

Financial support

- SIRA-funded programs are available to support small businesses

SIRA Small Business Assist SIRA funded programs to support recovery at work

Your obligations

Participate in developing a plan that supports your worker's recovery

You must not dismiss your worker due to a work related injury within the first 6 months (Workers Compensation Act 1987)

Speak to your Case Manager if you are worried about providing tasks for your worker icare - How small businesses can help injured employees recover at work

For more information, visit the Small Business hub at icare.nsw.gov.au/small-business-hub or scan this QR code.

Want to know more?

Speak with your case manager

The first few weeks of a workers claim